Protective Cover

The protective cover extends the service life of your equipment by covering it after use, preventing exposure to external elements such as water or dust. Its fabric is both waterproof and breathable, providing reliable protection without encouraging condensation. Made to measure, it fits your devices precisely thanks to accurate sizing, and can also be used to enhance protection for computer workstations, enclosures or trolleys.

The LMREA protective cover is a straightforward, cost-effective way to keep your equipment protected for the long term in any industrial environment.

BENEFITS:

- Provides reliable protection against liquid splashes, dust and damp.
- Helps reduce wear on equipment and cuts down on cleaning before it's put back into service.
- Quick and easy to fit after each period of use.
- Hard-wearing materials designed for intensive industrial use: waterproof, breathable, abrasion-resistant fabric.
- Compatible with all LMREA products (enclosures, trolleys, etc.) for all-round equipment protection.
